

To whom it may concern:

I am writing today
with great concern
about Sinclair Media. I'm sure that you by now, from the glut of email and
phone calls from
concerned citizens,
that Sinclair Media
is actively trying to influence the results of our election by using the public airwaves.

In a free society,
the press, and media
in a larger sense,
have a
responsibility to the public: a
responsibility to
inform, monitor and correct our public officials. In order to do this, they should remain
impartial, or, at the very least,
remain not obviously
biased.

I do not think that their recent actions are appropriate and would strongly urge you to give their license to a more deserving bidder
when renewals come up.

Thank you for your time
Nicholas P.
Bernstein